FIGHT SENDS ONE MAN TO BED, ANOTHER TO JAIL

Special to The Tribune, AMERICAN FORK, Sept. 27-Report

omea from a dipping corral in eastern Utah of a serious stabbing affair, as a result of which Orson Lourey is lying near leath's door and John Burns is in the Price jail awaiting the outcome of Lourey's wound. The fight was caused by Lourey's sheep getting mixed with those of his cousin, Wallace Loursy. Both herds had just been dipped, after aving been penned for two days. John Burns was herding for Wallace Lourey and an old man was herding for Orson and an old man was herding for Grant Loursy. It was alleged by Burns that the old man allowed the berds to get together and struck the old man, knocking him down. When Orson Loursy and Burns came together the matter of knocking the came together the matter of knocking the old man down was brought up. Orson Lourey was asked by Burns if he wanted anything. They dismounted and went at

it. After a short go, Burns cried out that he had aplenty, and Lourey desisted Immediately upon release. Burns drew a knife and started for Lourey, who in an endeavor to get away, fell face downward over a clumb of brush that was immediately behind him. While lying in this position Burns pounced upon him,
stabbing him in the small of the back.
Lourey was unconscious for a time, and it was feared that he would die before medical assistance could be secured, but he survived and has a small chance for recovery. Burns was taken to the Price jail, where he now awaits the outcome of Lourey's wounds.

William Storrs has just completed digging one patch of sugar beets. There were two and a half acres in the piece, from which he has hauled fifty-five tons of beets to the factory. This is a yield of twenty-two tons per acre. This patch is above the average, but there are a number of patches in town that will yield about the same tonnage. There are some that will go as low as six tons per acre, one becet-raiser saying that his crop was barely worth digging on account of a blight. The average crop will be about twolve tons per acre.

The electric light question was taken up last night by the City Council. Mr. Lewis of Spanish Fork, one of the Incorporators of the company, which is contemplating putting in an electric light system for Spanish Fork, was present, and explained the proposition. He said that the originators were willing to have Payson John with them in the enterprise if it so desired. The intention is to put in a plant near the mouth of Spanish Fork canyon, and obtain power from the waters of Spanish Fork river, with a one-unit plant, which will furnish power to the extent of about 500 horsepower, and from which from 400 to 5000 is-candle power lights can be supplied. The estimated cost of the plant is $30,000. It will be put in by Spanish Fork capital, if Payson does not take advantage of this opportunity. Unless something of a material nature is done, the city will be without lights every year during the freezing weather.

Clarence Kenney, charged with assault with intent to commit murder and who pleaded guilty to assault with a deadily weapon with intent to do bodily harm, will serve four years in the State prison. Kenney, a street-car conductor, slashed Mrs. Mary Nichols with a knife on the night of July 22, this year. It was supposed that jeal-ousy was the motive for the attempt. Kenney was afterwards heard to say to the policemen who arrested him that he was glad that he had cut the he was glad that he had out the wo-man and that he wished she would die. His case come up for trial on Mon-day, and he withdrew his plen of not guilty to the first charge, substituting one of guilty of assault with intent to do heddly harm. JURY REDUCES DAMAGES.

Award of $1000 Cut Down on Second Trial to One Dollar.

In the second trial of the case of Nichols vs. Daily Reporter company. the plaintiff was awarded a verdict of $1 damages. A sealed verdict was returned by the jury yesterday morning to that effect. On the first trial Nichols got $1000 damages, having asked for $3000. The suit was for libel, it being alleged that the defendant company had circulated printed cards to the effect that Nichols owed the defendant money. This was done at a time when the plaintiff was trying to be elected delegate to the convention of the International Typographical union, and was done, it sileged, to bring about his defeat.

Guardians for Brighton Heirs.

Thomas Brighton's five children had guardians appointed for them yesterday by Judge Hall upon the petition of Maj. Richard W. Young, their attorney. Brighton, it will be remembered, was one of Shockley's victims in the street car tragedy last January. Robert Brighton was appointed guar-dian for three of the minor children of the deceased, and Mrs Janet H. Anderson, of the other two. Bends fixed at $100 each. Real estate to the value of about $2500 forms the greater part of the murdered man's estate. In the future there may be a matter of $2200 to be divided between the families of Brighton and Amasa Gleason, Shockley's other victim, but at present this money, which represents the rewards for the capture of the murderer, which were assigned to the families of the dead men, has not been paid over.

Bert Prothero, who informed against Shockley, his roommate, and turned State's evidence, retracted his renun-ciation of his share of the rewards and is at present suing the Utah Light & Rallway company for the $1000 they of-fered for Shockley's capture. ACCIDENT CAUSED BOY'S DEATH WHILE HUNTING

Special to The Tribune.

EPHRAIM, Sept 3.—Earl, the oldest son of Jacob Peterson, had the bone in his left arm broken between the shoulder and cloow Monday morning. He was trying to head a horse when the animal reared and struck him, with the above result. Dr. Jenson dressed the injured noon Parley Murray, coming down Pine canyon, four miles west of town, on his way home from his father's sheep camp, observed a riderless horse loose, with the saddle partially turned round; a little saddle partially turned round; a little further down the trail a shotgun lay across the path, and about 199 yards from the gun lay the rigid form of David G Hutchison.

The Murray boy ran to town and a party was inmediately formed to go and bring the remains home. This was done and upon their arrival in town an examination revealed that the boy had been shot through the heart—the direction of the shot being from below the seventh rib upward. One shell of the gun had been discharged. As the evidence pointed clearly to an accident it was not considered necessary to hold an inquest.
